Presentation of the Budget in the Commons.

Mass Meeting of Workmen in Hyde Park on May 4th.

The Latest London Scandal Causes a Sensation—The German Press Hostile to Von Caprivi.

THE BUDGET.

London, April 17.—The presentation of the budget in the Commons to-day by Mr. Goschen, chancellor of the exchequer, was the occasion of an attendance of members and visitors that severely taxed the capacity of the available portions of Westminster Palace. Although Mr. Goschen is not personally a popular man, he is easily the ablest speaker on finance in either House, and his utterances on this subject always command attention. Among those who eluded the discomforts of the crowded seats of the visitors' gallery, to the end of Mr. Goschen's speech, were a large number of foreign representatives and attaches, who paid close attention to the speaker's statements. Mr. Goschen stated that he regarded this budget as the best that had ever been issued by any government and its reception certainly justifies the estimate he placed upon it. It is generally regarded favorably, and will probably be popular, though the failure of the ministry to reduce the income tax causes much disappointment. The reduction of the tax on tea appears at first sight to be a great concession; but it is really of small consequence, and only sufficient to benefit the middle ten. This class will doubtless be made the basis of a spirited debate. The foreign spirit tax is a great surprise, and the postage reduction is a concession to J. Henniker Heaton, Conservative member for Canterbury, who has so persistently hammered at this point as to drive Postmaster-General Raikes to the verge of distraction. The volunteer grant is merely a sop to the martial element in the provincial districts in order to regain the popularity which the government has lost through its application of certain local measures, entailing more annoyance than benefit.

A LABOR MANIFESTO.

A manifesto, signed by the heads of ninety-four trades unions, has been circulated throughout London during the last few days, calling upon hundreds of thousands of workingmen to meet in Hyde Park on May 4th for the purpose of agitating the question of an 8-hour day system. The most powerful of the trades unions have refused to sign the manifesto and are actively opposing the movement. Nevertheless the call will doubtless result in the assembly of one of the largest labor meetings that London has ever seen, though the opposition of the leading organizations will deprive it of the unanimity necessary to its character as a representative gathering.

ANOTHER LONDON SCANDAL.

The action brought by Miss Haines against Sir George Elliott, M. P., following as it does, so closely upon the heels of the revelations of the case of Commoner Isaacs against Miss Vincent, has created a great sensation, greater indeed than that furnished by the Isaacs affair. In many respects the cases are identical, though the present one lacks the sanguinary element supplied by Miss Vincent's perforation of her betrayer with a pistol ball. Both Isaacs and Elliott are old men, and both of their victims are young. Sir George is very rich, and is what would be called in America a self made man. His reputation as an admirer of young women, which he has borne for many years, greatly weakens the force of his allegation that Miss Haines is trying to blackmail him, and increases the sympathy which is being bestowed upon her.

AN AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN.

Owing to the action of the German government since the appointment of General Von Caprivi to the chancellorship, in refusing the privileges several of the leading German newspapers formerly enjoyed, those journals have joined in an aggressive campaign in opposition to the new administration. This movement, it is understood, will be instituted by Count Herbert Bismarck, and is being conducted under his direction.

FOREIGN PORK IN GERMANY.

Emperor William has expressed his strong desire that the prohibitive restrictions placed upon the importation of foreign pork into Germany be relieved. A movement of this kind would meet with popular approval.

CABLE NEWS.

The English Budget.

London, April 17.—The budget was to-day introduced into the Commons by Mr. Goschen. The expenses of the government are shown to have exceeded the estimates by £11,600, while the receipts exceeded the estimates by over £3,000,000. The duty on alcoholic beverages realized over £5,800,000. The beer duty exceeded the estimates by £270,000, and the duty on foreign spirits by £421,000, the duty on home spirits by £1,010,000, and that on wine by £12,000. The drink bill complete exceeds the estimates by £1,800,000. The receipts from the duties on coffee, cocoa and chicory had decreased £17,500, while those of tea had increased £40,000.

No More Roulette.

Cairo, April 17.—The Greek consul to-day ordered that the gambling houses kept by the Greeks in this city be closed forthwith. The keepers of the houses flatly refused to comply with the order, and declared that they would resist by every means any attempt to enforce it. A riot, as a result of the attitude of the gamblers and their partisans, is certain.

The Land Purchase Bill.

London, April 17.—The Duke of Argyle has written a letter in support of the Irish Land Purchase Bill, recently introduced in the Commons by Balfour. He argues that it is a matter of urgent importance to re-establish the full ownership of rights to the land of Ireland. As things stand at present such rights are not already fixed, owing to what he terms "the chaotic legislation" relating to the Irish land question, which has been adopted from time to time during the past ten years. Nobody, the Duke says, can call himself full owner of land when its value can be regulated at frequent times by government officials who act upon a settled and clearly defined principle. As a national result their decisions satisfy nobody, neither the nominal owner nor the occupant of the land. Such a state of things as now obtains in Ireland is utterly barbarous, a violation of all common sense, and a defiance of all universal experience and practice of all nations in all times. The duke concludes with the expression of a belief that the purchasers who might take advantage of the provisions of the bill would honestly pay the indemnities they would incur, and that the measure is well adapted to secure such payment.

Riots in Vienna.

Vienna, April 17.—Moravian strikers attacked the soldiers who attempted to disperse them, and a fierce fight ensued. Three of the strikers were killed and a large number wounded. The troops have been further reinforced.

Stanley Starts for Paris.

Cannes, April 17.—Henry M. Stanley started for Paris this afternoon.

30,000 Miners on Strike.

Vienna, April 17.—Thirty thousand Austrian miners in Ostrand and Kaiwin, districts of Moravia, have struck for eight hours a day and the rectification of some minor grievances. Their attitude is menacing and troops have been dispatched to the scene.

Another Strike Settled.

London, April 17.—The strike of the London bootmakers has been amicably settled and the men will resume work at once.

Proceedings in the Landtag.

Berlin, April 17.—In the landtag today, Doctor Windthorst, leader of the clerical party, raised a question of the abolition of the Guelph fund, and advocated the revocation of the sequestration of the property of the Hanoverian crown. Dr. Windthorst was supported by Herr Bruel. Herr Herrfurth, Prussian minister of the Interior, opposed the proposal. Sequestration could not be rescinded, nor could the Guelph fund be abolished without a special law. Windthorst and Bruel contended that no special law was necessary. Dr. Stoecker referred to the enormous increase of prostitution in Berlin, and cited statistics to show that its rapid growth had been unchecked by the authorities. Herr Herrfurth declared that the statistics cited were false and misleading. Several members protested against public discussion of the matter. A number of ladies occupied seats in the galleries during the whole of Dr. Stoecker's speech, which treated of the subject under discussion in the plainest terms.

WESTMINSTER SPECIAL.

Public Feeling Against the Redistribution Bill.

Five Candidates Seek Parliamentary Honors—The Canning Season Opens.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

New Westminster, April 17.—The latest candidate for parliamentary honors is Alderman Marshall Sinclair. This makes five candidates in the field, counting the Vancouver aspirant. As the writ has been issued a lively and hot campaign is expected.

Public feeling against the redistribution bill is as strong as ever, the general feeling being that Westminster city and district have been unfairly treated.

Ewen's cannery has commenced packing the spring salmon run. None of the other canneries will start at present.

A meeting of the Mainland Association will be held to-morrow to consider the redistribution bill. Delegates from every corner of the district will be present.

CANADIAN NEWS.

Stole a Hundred Thousand.

Montreal, April 16.—It is now learned that the Notre Dame church warden, Isaie Amable Quintal, who eloped to New York Saturday with the wife of a commercial traveler named Beaulien, has victimized banks and creditors generally to a greater amount than at first estimated. The total defalcation, it is now known, will be over $100,000. The defaulter is an ex-president of the Saint Jean Baptiste society. He is about 65 years of age, and leaves a wife and three children behind him, who are totally unprovided for. Mrs. Quintal is in deep distress, and says she cannot account for her husband's strange action. They had been married eighteen years, and had always lived happily together. She knew nothing about his business affairs. She said further she was willing to give his creditors all possible assistance, and refused to believe that he had gone with another man's wife. New York detectives have been notified by telegram of Quintal's elopement with Mrs. Beaulieu.

His Honor Vindicated.

Fredericton, N. B., April 17.—The Blair enquiry committee are expected to submit their report to-morrow. Not a single word was contained in all the evidence to show that Blair had anything to do with any of the alleged boodle transactions.

A Smuggler's Headquarters.

Winnipeg, April 16. — A detective employed by the Dominion government has been specially engaged for the last three months between the Pacific coast and here looking into the opium smuggling business. This is the main point from which the drug is sent overland from Victoria and finds its way into the United States.

Arrest of a Buonaparte.

Montreal, April 16—Albert Leopold Buonaparte, claiming to be a descendant of the great Corsican, arrived here a few days ago. Last night, without provocation, he shot a policeman. He was arrested. The policeman will recover.

Death Ends Despondency.

Sarnia, April 17.—Robert Craig, aged 55, hanged himself this morning between 5 and 6 o'clock in a shed on the farm of his brother James, in Sarnia township. He had been despondent for some time.

In Interested Ignorance.

Montreal, April 17.—Sir Joseph Hickson, of the Grand Trunk, states that he knows nothing about any agreement being entered into between the Grand Trunk and the Northern Pacific for the construction of a railway in the northwest.

Swallowed a Penknife.

Ottawa, April 16.—Elizabeth Elliott, daughter of Mrs. Alice Elliott, of New Edinburgh, swallowed a penknife with one blade open some time ago. Miss Elliott had typhoid, and since that time had been attacked with a slight dementia. Dr. Bell, who was called in to see Miss Elliott, said she swallowed the knife and her life depended on what course it would take inside. He was patiently awaiting the result.

CAPITAL NOTES.

Discussion Relative to the Atlantic Mail Service.

The Question of Communication with Prince Edward Island.

The Duty on Spirits Increased—Liquor in Cases Dutiable According to Measurement.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

Ottawa, Ont., April 17.—There was a lively discussion in the House to-day relative to the Atlantic mail service, members generally condemning the present slow boats. Hon. Mr. Haggart announced that the contract had been renewed with the Allans for a fourteen knot service for one year.

The Senate had a field day on the subject of Prince Edward Island communication, Howlan moving for a commission to investigate the cost of building a metallic subway between the Island and mainland. Abbott said the estimated cost would be $26,000,000, and he gave no hope of its being constructed.

A proposal has been made to the government to dispense with immigration pamphlets and substitute a weekly journal containing reliable notes of Canadian progress.

The government is contemplating the adoption of an annuity insurance scheme similar to the one operated in England by the post office department.

The political situation here is further complicated by the appearance of a Liberal candidate in the field.

The House considered the tariff all evening. The increased duty on mess pork passed, several Liberals supporting it. The duty on spirits will be increased to two dollars per gallon, and will be levied on a strength of 15 degrees below proof.

A proposal has been made to Hon. Mr. Carling that thoroughbred horses be placed on the experimental farms with a view to improving the breed of horses. The minister said it was not possible to assent to the request, as the farms would then be competing with private enterprise.

The tariff was amended to-night making liquor in cases dutiable according to actual measurement.

AMERICAN NEWS.

One Thousand Dollars' Reward.

Doylestown, Pa., April 16.—Word is received that absconder Shellenberger disappeared from Tacoma before he could be arrested. The police of San Francisco have been notified that there is $1,000 reward offered for Shellenbeger's capture.

Knocked Out.

New Orleans, April 16.—Tommy Danforth, of Cincinnati, knocked out Charlie Summers of California last night in five rounds at the Audubon Club.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 16.—An attempt was made last night to wreck a Lake Shore train at Andover by placing steel bars on the track. The engine jumped the track, but got back again. This is the third attempt made near the same point within a few weeks.

Boomers Must Leave.

Chamberlain, S. D., April 16.—It is reported here this morning that troops will remove the boomers from Scheerman, a new town on the reservation opposite here. The land is claimed by the Indians.

Worsteds Are Not Woolens.

New York, April 16.—The important test case of Balin, Joseph and Co. against the collector of customs to recover an alleged excess of duty paid under protest, on certain invoices of worsted cloths, was decided to-day in the United States Circuit court, by a jury, under Judge Lacombe, in favor of the importers. Many similar suits will now doubtless be pushed to an issue. The point was that worsteds were classed by the collector as woolens. The jury finds that worsteds are not woolens.

Dinner to President Harrison.

Washington, D. C., April 16.—The dinner given to-night in honor of President Harrison, at the Arlington hotel, by the Latin American delegates to the Pan-American congress, was a most brilliant affair. Among those present, besides President Harrison, were Secretary Blaine, Vice-President Morton, Chief Justice Fuller, Speaker Reid, Baron Fava, Italian minister; Secretaries Windom, Proctor, Noble and Rusk, Postmaster-General Wanamaker, Attorney-General Miller, the British, German, French, Portugese and many other ministers; also a number of representatives and senators.

A Valuable Testimonial.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 16.—At a farewell reception to-night, Rev. Theo. L. Cuyler, the retiring pastor of Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian church, a purse of $30,000 was given to Cuyler by the parishioners, representing $1,000 for each year of his service with the church.

Silk Dealers Assign.

New York, April 17.—Louis Frank & Co., dealers in raw silks and manufacturers of thrown silks, at 10 Grand street, assigned to-day without preferences. The liabilities are about $1,000,000, and the nominal assets about $1,300,000. The firm announced that they expect to settle in full.

Dr. Mary Walker's Illness.

Washington, April 17.—Dr. Mary Walker, who has been suffering for some time past from injuries received by a fall on May 30th last, will never recover the use of her limbs. She is confined to her bed. Besides the injury to her limbs the doctor is suffering from lung trouble. She has about given up all hope of ever being able to resume the active life she has been accustomed to lead.

The Strike at Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., April 17.—There is nothing new in the carpenters' strike situation to-day. Little or no attempt is being made in any part of the city to do any work. The monotony of inaction on the part of the carpenters was relieved this afternoon by a parade and demonstration at Lake Front Park. About 300 carpenters marched on Market street, and, headed by bands of music, marched to the Lake front, where they were addressed by prominent speakers.

Duty on Bleached Grasses.

New York, April 17.—The case of Donald & Michel against the government to recover an excess of duty on bleached grasses, used for decorative purposes by florists, was decided in favor of the plaintiffs by the United States circuit court to-day. The tariff act says that all dried leaves, stem grasses, etc., which have not been increased in value by manufacture, shall be free of duty. Those which have been increased in value shall be dutiable at 10 per cent. The government claimed that the articles in question came under the head of non-enumerated manufactured articles and were dutiable at 20 per cent. The jury decided that they are dutiable at 10 per cent. The government will probably have to refund a very large amount of duties collected on such imports since 1886.

PREPARING FOR ACTION.

Meeting to Arrange for the Celebration of the Queen's Birthday.

Scarcely more than one hundred persons assembled in the city hall last evening in answer to the call from the mayor for a public meeting to consider the best manner in which to celebrate the Queen's birthday and also, if deemed desirable, a fitting reception to His Grace the Duke of Connaught. In his preliminary remarks the mayor explained the circumstances surrounding his efforts to obtain a reply to the several messages which he sent to various places asking whether a demonstration would be acceptable to the Duke. The 24th of May was drawing near, and it having been customary in this city to fittingly celebrate that event, he had decided to call the present meeting to consider what should be done for the occasion, and if in the meantime it was learned that a demonstration would be acceptable to His Grace, why of course all the better.

His worship the mayor having been voted into the chair, with S. Perry Mills to act as secretary, the meeting proceeded to nominate a general committee which is composed as follows: His worship the mayor, president and convener, Messrs. Hon. J. H. Turner, Hon. D. W. Higgins, D. W. Morrow, Dr. Jones, T. S. Milligan, H. E. Croasdaile, E.G. Prior, M. P.; Thos. Earle, M.P.; D.M. Eberts, G. C. Mesher, Wm. Whyte, E. B. Marvin, Dr. Hanington, G. Gillespie, Chas. Hayward, D. C. Jones, H. D. Helmcken, D. S. Campbell, Dr. Milne, W. Lorrimer, Robt. Ward, W. Whittaker, Geo. Powell, R. P. Rithet, T.H. Baker, T. J. Burnes, H. J. Scott, Hon. Theo. Davie, J. D. Prentice, Hon. Robert Beaven, J. Braden, J. A. Sayward, Dr. West, Simeon Duck, M. P. P.; Thomas Shaw, B. Boggs, A.C. Flummerfelt, Hon. C. E. Pooley, C. Jenkinson, W. Wilson, Joshua Davies, Hon. Justice Drake, J.B. Lovell, James Dunsmuir, T. R. Smith, W. C. Ward, W. C. Anderson, ex-Mayor Redfern, W. G. Pinder, Dr. Newcombe, Morris Moss, G. H. Burns, Richard Hall, Capt. Palmer, Thos. Deasy, M. J. Conley, E. V. Bodwell, Lt.-Col. Wolfenden, E. Crow Baker, the officers of the fleet in the harbor, commandant and officers of "C" Battery, B. Drake, Rev. Beanlands, H. Crease, Ven. Archdeacon Scriven, H. Barnard, H. K. Prior, W. Ward, Dr. Jones, Dr. J. S. Helmcken, W. H. Cullin, Frank Campbell, Jr., Bourchier, Croft, Mallette, Willis Bond, and others.

It was decided to leave the class of amusement to the general committee to decide and report the matter at a public meeting to be called by his worship. The meeting will be held on Monday evening at the city hall, and the hope was expressed that all those whose names are down for the committee will be present

Dr. Milne moved that the meeting indicate the line of sports and where they should be held. This proceeding was the cause of discussion from Dr. Hanington, but Dr. Milne carried his point, with which Mr. Bond and others disagreed on the ground of interference with the functions of the committee.

The mayor read a letter from the "manager and proprietor" of the Chinese baseball club, offering for the trifling inducement of $400 to postpone the club's departure for the east on the 17th and give the royal party as fine an exhibition of ball playing as it would be possible to witness. It was decided that the city would have to bear the cruel self denial of allowing the Celestial ball slingers to depart prior to the 24th if they so wished. Promises were received from the representatives of lacrosse, wheelmen, baseball players (not Chinese) and the firemen, but more definite details will be developed by the general committee, which will be held on Monday evening next.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

CYCLING.

The annual general meeting of the Island Wanderers' Cycling club was held last evening, when the following were elected officers for the current year: President, John Grant (re-elected); captain, C. W. Miner; lieutenant, C. E. Jones; secretary-treasurer, H. J. Scott; managing committee, the office bearers and W. A. McLean, A. F. Rapperty, W. P. Lindley, J. C. Cornish and Percy Jenns. The pretty blue serge uniforms of the C. W. A. were adopted as the club costumes, with cap and knickerbockers to match. On motion the secretary was instructed to take preliminary steps with a view to affiliation with the Canadian association; and also to communicate with Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend, Portland, Westminster and Vancouver, inviting them to attend a grand bicycle tournament here on May 24th. The club will meet again for the first run next Thursday evening, when all active members, about twenty-five, are commanded to turn out under the most dire penalties.

CAPRIVI'S FIRST EFFORT.

He Opens the Prussian Diet and Speaks Words of Wisdom.

Berlin, April 15.—The Prussian diet was opened to day by Chancellor Caprivi. In his speech he said: "It is not my intention to state the government's programme, but having hitherto held aloof from political life, I now wish to speak a few words in order to approach you personally."

The chancellor then referred to the important position which had been held by Bismarck, and expressed the hope that in future the empire would continue secure. The edifice of state, he said, was cemented firmly enough to resist the wind and weather. Moreover, the noble personality of their young monarch had already manifested itself at home and abroad.

He affirmed the undying belief in the future of Prussia and the German empire. The emperor had said his course would remain the same. The inauguration of a new era, therefore, is not to be expected, although more harmonious solidity would be manifest among the members of the diet.

In conclusion, the chancellor said he would allow the widest scope to political criticism, and would adopt what was good, wherever found. He would cooperate with all persons having at heart the interests of Prussia and aiming to foster the monarchic feeling in Prussia and the national feeling throughout the empire.

A NOMINAL OPPOSITION.

The Organ of the Opposition has really nothing to say against the Redistribution Bill. It, of course, calls it a hard name, but it fails to adduce one single reason why it should not be adopted. It calls it a "puerile creature," whatever that may mean, but it does not proceed very far before it admits that this "puerile creature" is about as good a measure as could, under the circumstances, be formed. It says:

"Had they (the Mainland supporters of the Government) proved obdurate, a modification of the Government programme would have been found necessary. But it may be that the Mainland will be perfectly satisfied with the Government programme. It has been given 17 members to 16 for the Island, and as the distribution of wealth and, population stands at present, to ask more would be the signal for a fight on purely sectional lines. A contest of this kind we should deprecate."

If this does not mean that the Government's bill, whatever the Times chooses to call it, is not as fair a one as could in the present circumstances of the province, as regards wealth and population, be devised, it means nothing at all. It will be observed that the organ of the opposition does not suggest any better system of redistribution than the one adopted by the Government, and approved by a large majority of the Legislature. If it were easy to devise a better measure—one that would deal more fairly with all parts of the province—the Opposition would surely by this time have at least discovered the principles on which it should be based. They have had time enough to think the matter over. They complain that the Government has taken too long to mature its scheme, but the time, long as it is has been, was too short for them, for they are not prepared with an alternative scheme, and their organ is not yet ready even to discuss the measure which the Government has brought down intelligently. It sets out evidently with the intention of finding fault with that measure, but before it ends it virtually admits that the scheme is equitable, and it has no improvements to suggest. It, in fact, gives up the attempt to criticise it in despair, and declares that it does not much matter what it is like; that it is not an increase of representation that the people want, but good government. It is rather late in taking this ground. If when an increase of representation and a redistribution of seats were first proposed it had taken this stand, its attitude could easily be understood, but it does look singular, after changes in the representation have been before the country for months, to see it proclaiming in a cynical way that it is all vanity and vexation of spirit. This is very strong testimony in favor of the Government's bill, for if the Opposition had really any serious fault to find with it its organ would not have been backward in condemning it in that peculiar style which it regards as so very effective.

THE ORGAN BRAGGING.

We are not a little surprised to see our Opposition contemporary declaring that the COLONIST has, with regard to the treatment which this province has received at the hands of the Ottawa authorities, hidden its "head in the sand" and "declines to see." Our readers can bear witness that the very reverse is the fact. We have been so quick to see and so ready to resent any injustice done or proposed to be done to British Columbia that many of our readers seemed to think that we had gone over to the Opposition. They were the more inclined to believe this as in most instances the Times was silent long after we had spoken, and even then seconded our efforts in a half-hearted kind of way. We have been often surprised at our contemporary's apathy and indifference when it allowed THE COLONIST, which gives the Dominion Government a general support, to be beforehand with it in asking for a redress of British Columbian grievances, and in warding off injuries proposed to be inflicted on this province. Our contemporary's boasting, in view of its most conspicuous slackness, is very ridiculous.

There is not a grievance which the people of the province have complained of which was not noticed and protested against by the COLONIST long before the Times seemed to be aware of its existence, and, if we recollect right, we more than once demanded justice for British Columbia in face of the sneers, the taunts, and the ridicule of the organ of the Opposition. A correspondent in another column reminds our readers of an instance in which the influence of the Times was exercised in a way opposed to the interests of the province. In that case justice was done to the province in spite of the representations of the Times. If bonded goods carried across the continent by American railways are now conveyed from Tacoma to Victoria in American steamers, it is in spite of the influence exercised by the organ of the opposition. If the COLONIST in that matter had pursued the course taken by the Times, we are safe in saying the custom's authorities would never have rescinded the order, the operation of which would have been most injurious to this city. We are not fond of boasting, but if fearless and persistent advocacy of the interests of British Columbia is made a test of the merits of the two Victoria newspapers we have no hesitation in claiming for the COLONIST a place a long way in advance of our bragging contemporary.

"PAUPER LABOR."

Very much has been said in the United States about the "pauper labor" of Great Britain. American artisans, factory hands, miners, and others have been taught to believe that the laboring classes in the Old World work for a mere pittance, and that they are kept on the borders of starvation. The editor of the Chicago Herald, wishing to find out the truth about this, sent a commissioner to England. This commissioner's name is Postgate. He is well known to many Canadians. He found the British workingmen in a very different condition to that described by agitators on this side of the Atlantic. He states that many of them are in all respects better off than men pursuing the same occupations in the United States. They are well paid, well fed, and well lodged. Their house rent is lower than it is in the States, and their clothing and their food are much cheaper. He found that American meat and American vegetables can be purchased cheaper in Manchester than in Chicago. The men, too, are quite as independent as they are in the United States. They are free to form combinations of many kinds. The law does not interfere with them to restrict their liberty. They can hold what opinions they please, and they are perfectly free to express them both by speech and through the press. They are neither starved nor down-trodden.

We are glad to see the truth in this matter brought within the reach of the American working man. Those who have wanted his vote have taught him that it is only in America that men of his class receive fair treatment, or get anything like adequate remuneration for their labor. All this they boasted was owing to Republican institutions and the policy of high protection. It will do these men good to learn that in Great Britain, where trade is free, and where monarchical institutions have existed for ages, working men are as comfortable in every respect and as free from Governmental interference as they are in the United States of America.

TROUBLE IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

The agitation in Newfoundland respecting the French claims and the concessions granted by the British Government in the "modus vivendi" has not abated in the least. The people of Newfoundland are greatly excited, and not without cause. They consider that a very large extent of the sea coast has been handed over to the French Government and that they have thereby been deprived of fishing privileges of great value.

Our readers are aware that the French have interpreted their privileges to catch fish and dry them on the land to mean a right to catch lobsters and pack them in factories erected on the shore. They go even further than this, and deny the right of the inhabitants of Newfoundland to compete with them within the limits defined in the treaty. That is, they would drive the fishermen of Newfoundland off the shores of the island which they have hitherto regarded as their own.

The British lawyers say that the explanatory note added to the treaty of Utrecht, on which the French ground this claim, will not bear the interpretation given to it by the government of France. In the meantime, pending the settlement of the question, the two powers have agreed to a "modus vivendi" which has excited the indignation of all Newfoundlanders, from the highest to the lowest. This is the text of the agreement:

"The question of principle and of respective rights being entirely reserved on both sides, the British and French governments agree that the status quo ante shall be maintained during the ensuing season on the following basis:

"Without France or Great Britain demanding at once a new examination of the legality of the installation of British and French lobster factories on the coast of Newfoundland where the French enjoy rights of fishing, conferred by the treaties, it is understood that there shall be no modifications in the position occupied by the establishments of either country on the 1st July, 1889; except that a subject of either nation may remove any such establishments to any spot on which the commanders of the two naval stations shall have previously agreed.

"No lobster fisheries which were not in operation on the 1st July, 1889, shall be permitted unless by joint consent of the commanders of the British and French naval stations.

"In consideration of each new lobster fishery so permitted, it shall be open to the fishermen of the other country to establish a new lobster fishery on some spot to be similarly settled by joint agreement between the naval commanders.

"Whenever any case of competition with respect to a lobster fishery arises, the commanders shall proceed on the spot to a provisional delimitation having regard to the situations acquired by the two parties.

"N. B.—It is well understood that this arrangement is quite provisional, and shall only hold good for the fishing season which is about to open."

Can You Do Better

When attacked by croup, sore throat, colds, rheumatism, neuralgia, sprains, bruises, burns, or any kind of pain or soreness, can you do better than use Yellow Oil? It is a medicine which never fails to give satisfaction. It is magical in its power over pain, and is the safest and best remedy where soreness and inflammation exist.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

Fifth Parliament—Fourth Session.

FORTY-EIGHTH DAY.

THURSDAY, April 17.

The speaker took the chair at 2:10 p. m.

Prayers by Rev. J. E. Starr.

PRIVILEGE.

Hon. Mr. Robson, before the first order of the day was called, said that it was not often that he rose to a question of privilege in regard to misreporting in the newspapers. In justice to others more than to himself, however, he was compelled now to refer to a portion of the report in THE COLONIST of Wednesday's proceedings. In discussing the question of the lien he was made to say: "The fact was that since county court judges learned in the law, had given opinions that had aroused a wrong feeling, it might be better to get sensible, level-headed laymen to administer the act instead of those county court judges." It could not be expected that all that was said in the House would be reported; it would be unfortunate for some honorable gentlemen if their remarks were so recorded. [Hear, hear.] In the report quoted, the qualifying words which he (the premier) had used were left out, making him say what he would be very sorry to say of county court judges or any others. The most amiable relations should always be cultivated between the legislature and the judiciary, and he would have been sorry to say what he was reported as saying, without qualifying it as he had. He had said that it was not fair to take general statements that the act was not workable. He had said that it was necessary to enquire into the merits of each particular case before pronouncing the law itself bad. Two County Court judges had been quoted in the debate as saying that the act was unworkable; one of whom had said that up to the time of the appointment of the County Court judges it worked satisfacterily. He (Hon. Mr. Robson) had said that if this was so, if County Court judges could not administer the law, it would perhaps be well to get level-headed lawyers who could. This morning he was waited upon by one County Court judge who felt very sore over the matter and who denied emphatically that he ever gave his opinion that the Lien Law was either bad or unworkable. There surely was a mistake somewhere. He had no wish to make any statement, in public or private, that would be unfair to any man, particularly a judge, as he considered it his duty to say and do those things that were calculated to maintain the influence and dignity of the bench.

Mr. Haslam enquired the name of the county court judge to whom the premier referred.

Hon. Mr. Robson—It was the county court judge of Nanaimo.

Mr. Haslam, also rising to a question of privilege, remarked that in the debate on Wednesday he had said two county court judges, he did not mention where, had pronounced the lien law unworkable and unsatisfactory. He would now say that the county court judge of Nanaimo was the one to whom he referred. His remarks were made from the bench, and were heard by scores who could bear witness to them. Since that time this county court judge had informed him of his reasons for pronouncing the act unsatisfactory. These reasons he (Mr. Haslam) had given to the attorney-general, to whom he had also pointed out the defects in the act referred to by the two county court judges. Any statements that he (Mr. Haslam) had made he was prepared to prove at any time.

Mr. Cunningham said that he did not say that county court judges had said publicly that the act was unworkable. It had been said to him personally, however. His remarks were not intended as any reflection on the judges.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

Mr. Cunningham moved the adoption of the report of the Education committee and took occasion to refer to the work of the committee, and the evidence received by them on which the report was based. Mr. Muir, in a letter to the Times, had stated that he was unfairly treated by the committee, and that he was not allowed to cross-examine witnesses whose evidence would be expected to prejudice his case. This letter was a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end. He had been allowed the privilege of cross-examining and he had been allowed to produce evidence which was not in reality admissible. To say that the committee were convinced that injustice had been done him was wholly untrue. The only injustice done anyone was done to the public by the government and its leader in tolerating the man Muir as long as he had been retained as a teacher. Mr. Cunningham proceeded to go fully into each item of the report before resuming his seat.

Mr. Croft seconded the motion for the adoption of the report. Referring to the letter published in the Times by Mr. Muir and briefly touched upon by Mr. Cunningham, the member for Cowichan pronounced it an insult to the honor of the committee, as the letter was published before the committee had concluded their labors. The letter was evidently intended to impress people with the idea that Muir was unfairly dealt with. As secretary of the committee he had the fullest knowledge of the evidence submitted, and he could say that the committee had shown all the favor possible to Mr. Muir, allowing him to produce evidence that was wholly irrelevant, which might, however, indirectly benefit his case. He (Mr. Croft) blamed Mr. Muir for his ungentlemanly conduct in Miss Rutherford's case, and in the distribution of his circular No. 2, in the High School. He blamed the trustees of Wellington school for their action, and after reviewing the report thoroughly as the previous speaker had, he advised the opposition in future to adopt smokeless powder and load their guns with bullets; in their past attacks they had used powder that made plenty of smoke, and plenty of noise, but which, owing to the fact that the bullets were missing, were barren of results.

Hon. Mr. Beaven after rallying the member for Cowichan on his uniform support of the government, and reading members a lecture on parliamentary etiquette, paid a tribute to the excellent educational system of this province, under which the former dearth of teachers had been entirely removed. He then reviewed the reports and the evidence, denying that the majority report was such as should commend itself to this House. He charged that political influences had been brought to bear upon Mr. S. D. Pope to induce him to change his mind in connection with the Vancouver school. Nothing more conclusive could, he urged, have been found than in the correspondence with regard to Miss Lawrence at Nanaimo, who was thrown out of employment because she was possessed of no influence, while without one word of murmur a temporary certificate was given to Mr. Robinson, who received the appointment at Vancouver although there were five duly certificated teachers who had applied for the position. In his evidence as to the appointment of a teacher at Wellington, Mr. Pope said he wanted the trustees to appoint Mr. Muir in order that he might come within the jurisdiction of the department, so that his certificate might be cancelled. This showed that not only was Mr. Pope under the thumb of the provincial secretary, but that he was not fit for the position that he occupied. He denied that the act gave to the department the choice of teachers, that function remaining with the trustees, all the power of the department in this regard being to see that teachers were properly certificated. It had therefore been for Mr. Pope to attend to his own business instead of dictating to the teachers whom they should employ.

Hon. Mr. Robson said there was nothing to show that Mr. Pope had ever dictated or attempted to dictate to the trustees. He did not use any means to influence the trustees.

Hon. Mr. Beaven went on to define political influence, concluding by declaring his inability to endorse the report. In the course of his remarks the hon. gentleman expressed himself in favor of depriving teachers of the right to vote.

Hon. Mr. Davie said it was manifest from the remarks of the leader of the opposition that he was supporting a case in which he did not believe, and had only taken the stand he had done for political reasons. As everyone knew Mr. Muir, who was the instigator of this matter, was an unfortunate individual whose vanity was accustomed to lead him away. He was more to be pitied than despised, and for his part he (Mr. Davie) regretted that so much time had been lost in pandering to his vaniy. What Mr. Muir wanted was notoriety, which, in his ordinary vocation, he would never get. Not being able to get notoriety, he conducted himself as no one, who had not lost his wits, would think of doing In the case of Miss Lawrence, through no fault of hers, she was unable to pass her examination. A provision of the Education Act was that school trustees might, on satisfying the education department that they could not find the teachers they required, grant temporary certificates. In the case of Miss Lawrence the superintendent found himself bound by the provisions of the law and was unable to grant a temporary certificate. The leader of the opposition had said that the young lady had been treated as she was because she had no political influence. He (Mr. Davie) was not so sure of that. She came to him (Mr.

B. C. NATURALISTS' SOCIETY.

An Organization to Promote and Extend the Study of Natural History in British Columbia.

The British Columbia Natural History Society, lately organized, will not only perform good work, but will be a valuable auxiliary to the museum. Its raison d'etre is to promote and extend the study of the natural history of the province of British Columbia, and to act as "an independent auxiliary" to the museum by collecting specimens and handing them over to the museum in as good a state of preservation as possible. It is proposed to devote every alternate Saturday afternoon to an excursion to some spot where observations can be made, and on the following Monday to hold a meeting at the Provincial museum to discuss the operations of the day's outing on Saturday. This will involve the naming and classification of specimens secured, which will afterwards be handed over to the curator of the museum. Papers bearing on natural history will also be read at these meetings and discussions will follow, in the course of which much interesting and profitable information will be gleaned. The institution of a library will receive special attention and will be an important object of the society, so that any donation of books likely to be of interest will be very acceptable.

At present the membership list totals forty-four, but a number of new names were proposed at the last meeting, besides which others will no doubt join as public interest in the society grows and its objects are better known. The office-bearers are: President, Ashdown Greene; vice-presidents, Dr. Hall and M. Lopatecki; secretary, Dr. Newcombe; treasurer, J. K. Worsfold; librarian and curator, John Fannin.

Donations.

The Park committee acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the following donations: A brace of tame quail, Mr. James Meldram; water fowl, Capt. Morrison; choice trees, Mrs. McTavish.

A Freak of Nature.

There is on view at Campbell's corner a curiosity in the shape of a young hog with two bodies, eight legs, two tails and a double neck. The curiosity came from a farm at North Saanich, and it looks very much as though the enterprising farmers in that district are trying to "double up" in the pork business.

Freight and Trade Notes.

The Kingston last evening brought over one carload each of flour, whiskey and general merchandise.

One carload of corned beef formed the major part of the North Pacific's cargo last evening.

The freight of the Islander last evening consisted of one carload each of flour, cheese and general merchandise.

A Swift Smuggler.

The Puget Sound papers publish descriptions of a swift smuggling craft that can, with a good stiff breeze, show the revenue cutter Wolcott a clean pair of heels, and on more than one occasion has been seen bowling along with the cutter in pursuit, but far in the rear. The schooner was built as a racer and has splendid lines. Her ownership is a mystery.

Hughes-Crookall.

Mr. P. D. Hughes, formerly of Toronto and now of Seattle, was united in marriage at the Pro-cathedral yesterday morning to Miss Crookall, who arrived from Berlin, Ont., on Wednesday to meet her affianced. After the marriage ceremony the happy couple were driven to the Driard house, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. They leave this morning for their new home in Seattle.

Unwelcome News.

Mr. J. C. Henderson, of Chilliwhack, who came over last evening, states that owing to the extreme cold of last winter not a single acre has been sown in the district as yet, and the prospects are that a scarcity of grain will be felt in every part of the district this year. The prevailing high water is another source of alarm to the residents of the important district which Mr. Henderson makes his home.

City Police Court.

Wm. Clarke was, in this court yesterday morning, fined $5 for driving a team of horses over an unprotected sidewalk. Sadie Lee, charged with being an inmate of a house of ill-fame, was given another chance to appear in court, it being shown that she was sick in bed. Fred. J. Norriss a confirmed opium fiend and frequenter of a house of ill-fame, was remanded for one day on a charge of vagrancy.

The Boating Season.

The different boat-builders around the city have been kept busy during the winter months, building new and repairing old pleasure boats for the coming season. Last summer the supply was very much behind the demand, but this year everyone will be supplied. Boating has always been a feature of outside enjoyment to Victorians, and the pleasure-seekers will be pleased to hear of the action of the boat-houses.

To Pack Spring Salmon.

Westminster Truth says Mr. Alex. Ewen's cannery was to begin packing salmon yesterday. This will be the first of the spring run packed on the Fraser. In the past seasons the run of spring salmon was considered too small to justify the canners in going to the outlay of packing them, but the old fishermen say that the present spring run is the greatest they have known in the Fraser.

The Burned Schooner.

The vessel destroyed by fire in the Straits, on Tuesday evening, proves to have been the schooner Granger, owned by Church & Lipsett of Dungeness. She was on a trip from San Juan Island to Seattle with 800 barrels of lime. The crew pulled ashore in a small boat, landing near Point Wilson. The Granger was built in Utsalady in 1874, and was for many years owned by Mr. C. F. Clapp, who used the vessel in connection with his merchandise business there. It is understood there is no insurance. Loss of vessel and cargo will be about $8,000.

Suspended Animation.

A strange case comes from Port Angeles of suspended animation. Tuesday an order was received by a Port Townsend undertaking firm for a casket for Mrs. Goodwin, the divorced wife of E. W. Goodwin, one of the old settlers of that city. The lady, it was stated, died very suddenly. The casket was shipped on the George E. Starr Tuesday afternoon. Wednesday the casket was returned to Port Townsend with the statement that Mrs. Goodwin had been brought back to life. She, it is thought, went into a trance, and those about her supposing her to be dead, sent for the coffin.

A Seattle Firebug.

Great excitement prevails in West Seattle over the arrest of M. L. Pencil. Pencil is charged with setting fire to his own grocery in West Seattle, which was completely destroyed by the fire early Monday morning, and of also causing the destruction of Stewart's saloon, which was situated next door, and which was totally destroyed. The causes alleged for Pencil's incendiarism were not only to obtain the insurance on his stock of groceries, which amounted to $2,400, but also to cover the theft of several valuable registered mail packages, which it was thought at first were destroyed by fire, but which are now believed to have been stolen beforehand.

FROM OUR FAVORITE BARITONE.

Dear Sir,—The piano bought from you a year ago for the Young People's Association of the First Presbyterian Church, has given satisfaction in every way. The test has been a severe one, the instrument having been in the school-room subjected to all kinds of temperature with only a cloth cover. The organist, Miss Stephen, as well as the various instrumentalists who have used it are united in praising its action and tone. I can only add that I enjoy singing a song, when the accompaniment is played on a "Goodwin."

Yours faithfully, JOHN G. BROWN,
Choirmaster First Presbyterian Church, Victoria.

Carrying Off the Beaver.

The old Hudson's Bay steamer Beaver which, after sailing these waters over half a century, was wrecked in the Narrows some two years ago and abandoned on the shore, is fast disappearing. There are two agents at the work of annihilation—the water and relic-hunters—the latter of which have struck Vancouver in force, and think that they can get all they want here in their line of business in about two days. Yesterday a number of them went out in a boat, taking with them saws, files, etc., and robbed the vessel of some portions of her anatomy, including the board on which her name is gilded. It is understood a local poet has been keeping vigils over the collection and intends writing an epic, in which the Beaver's career will be graphically and soulfully told.—News-Advertiser.

Canners in Convention.

A meeting of the Salmon Canners' association was held here yesterday afternoon, when the recently issued regulations were thoroughly discussed. It was decided to make an effort to have the suggestions made by the canners in January last carried into effect, or else to have the operation of the new regulations deferred for one year.

James Bay Athletic Association.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the shareholders of the James Bay Athletic club was held in the Board of Trade rooms last evening. It was decided to call for tenders for the building immediately, and another meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, when important business will be brought up. Every shareholder is requested to attend.

Presentation.

The Columbia and Kootenay.

A Winnipeg despatch of yesterday says: "General Superintendent Abbott of the C. P. R., Pacific division, passed through this city yesterday in his private car, on his way to Montreal. While here he gave orders to have over two hundred men sent to Revelstoke at the end of this month to work on the railway to be built between the Columbia river and Kootenay. One hundred men have already been sent out. Work on the road will commence in about a week.

He Knew His Own Case.

As Officer Levin was patrolling his beat at about 6 o'clock last evening, a young man who had wrestled hard with Bacchus and narrowly escaped being thrown, approached him with tremulous steps and enquired: "Are you a plees officer?"

"Yes," was the reply, as the officer fixed his eye upon the interrogator.

"Well," continued the culprit, as he linked his arm lovingly in the policeman's, "I'm drunk and disorderly. Been that way six days; just run me in, please."

And to accommodate the inebriate he was locked up, and to-day will be introduced to the magistrate at his morning reception.

Receive Him With All Honor.

Mr. J. A. Fullerton, manager of the C.P.R. steamers, who arrived over last evening from Vancouver, says that the ss. Parthia, with H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught and party on board, may be expected from Yokohama on the 22nd of May. The captain has received his instructions to anchor in Royal Roads, and there transfer his distinguished visitors to the tender which will convey them to Victoria. It having been said that the Sir James Douglas will probably be selected to bring His Royal Highness and his suite to this city, the suggestion may be in order that a far more suitable and complimentary arrangement would be to have all the warships at that time on this station perform the duty. The Amphion will be out of dock early in May, and should certainly be the honored ship; or if not her, her companion the Acorn. When H.R.H. Princess Louise arrived in Canada the flagship and all the war vessels in Halifax went out to meet her. Surely the loyalty of the West will find equally strong expression.

There is a quiet rumor in circulation that until further notice the newly refitted steamer Amelia will be tied up in the upper harbor indefinitely by her new owners, the C. P. N. Co.

Steamer City of Puebla arrived from San Francisco at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon with a large number of passengers and a heavy cargo of freight.

Capt. Newby, late of the Victoria bark Nanaimo, arrived home last evening, having resigned his command at Shanghai, where the Nanaimo was sold about one month ago. The purchasers are Shanghai people, and it is probable that the old Victoria bark will seldom be seen here in future. The amount of money moving in the transfer is not made public.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

Davie) before his election and endeavored to get a certificate. He had felt that this was a deserving case, and if any political influence could have induced Mr. Pope to swerve from the provisions of the law he would in this case have done so. Mr. Pope had, however, showed him the act, and asked if there were any special reasons why he should swerve from the act. He had thus showed that Miss Lawrence had more political influence than Mr. Robinson. In the Robinson case there had been five other applications, but the trustees had formally stated that they did not consider that there was any reason why they should appoint any of the teachers who had applied, and the temporary certificate was therefore issued to Mr. Robinson.

Mr. Grant endorsed the report of Mr. Semlin. He considered the department most reprehensible for acting as they had done.

The Speaker having put the question several times, called in the members.

As they were coming in to vote,

Mr. Semlin, who had been waiting for the leader of the government to speak before taking the floor, endeavored to re-open the discussion, but was informed that the debate had been closed.

Hon. Mr. Beaven contended that until the ayes and nays had been called a member could address the House.

Mr. Semlin said it was the fault of the leader of the House that he had not spoken.

Hon. Mr. Robson—Why?

Mr. Semlin—I was waiting for the Premier to speak in order to reply.

The Speaker having ruled that Mr. Semlin was not entitled to the floor, the report of the committee on education was adopted on division, the nays being Messrs. Semlin, Beaven, Orr and Grant.

PRIVILEGE.

Hon. Mr. Davie said that in an interview with Judge Harrison, that gentleman had stated that he had never said, either on the bench or off, that the Lien Act was unworkable, nor had he refused to work under it. On the contrary, there had been only one case before him (Mr. Harrison), under the Act, and in that case the plaintiff had failed because he had neglected to bring himself under its provisions. Mr. Harrison also in reference to County Court Judge Bole, thought it hardly possible that he had held the act to be unworkable, as it was only a short time since that—on the occasion of going to New Westminster—he (Mr. Harrison) had found Mr. Bole trying a case under the act. Mr. Davie read a letter from Mr. Harrison. Mr. Davie then alluded to a report of his remarks of the previous evening contained in THE COLONIST, in relation to the consolidation of the lien act, and to section 13, wherein a reference to section 7 was found, which ought to be to section 22. What he had said on the subject was that the error was in the consolidation, and not in the original act of 1888, and that the error arose from the re-arrangement of the sections which was done by the consolidators with the view of simplyfying the act.

Mr. Haslam said he could only repeat what he had stated last night, which was only the truth and he could substantiate.

Mr. Cunningham said he would reiterate what he had said about the working of the present lien act, that if once one got into the courts under it he could not get out again.

Hon. Mr. Beaven here rose to a question of privilege, and quoted from the 8th volume of May in support of the contention that Mr. Semlin had the right to speak upon a subject until after the vote had commenced.

Hon. Mr. Robson — The Speaker always pauses long enough to enable every member to speak.

The Speaker—Rule 80 of our rules of orders says that after the members have been called in no motion can be made or discussion take place before the vote is taken.

Hon. Mr. Beaven immediately sat down and said no more about "May."

On motion of Hon. Mr. Turner, the House went into committee (Mr. Baker in the chair) and the supply bill was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Semlin moved that the House do now adjourn, announcing his intention to speak with respect to the education report, the debate on which had just been closed.

The Speaker said that before allowing the motion to be put he desired the mover to give authorities for his proposal.

Mr. Semlin said he had no special authorities to cite, but a motion to adjourn was always in order.

After some discussion the Speaker said he would look up the matter, and, if the member were in order, he would protect him in his rights.

Hon. Mr. Robson observed that this was an important matter, and he was glad the Speaker had undertaken to look it up. The point ought to be absolutely disposed of and settled.

PAYMENTS INTO COURT.

The House went into committee, Mr. Ladner in the chair, on the message of his Honor the Lieut.-Governor, enclosing the following proposed clauses to the bill relating to the payment of money into and out of court.

"9. All moneys to be paid into the treasury under the provisions of this act, and all balances for principal to the credit of any matter, suit, or proceeding, shall draw interest at the rate of three per centum per annum from the first day of the month after payment into the treasury up till the first day of the month during which such money shall be paid out, and no interest shall be paid in respect of fractions of a month.

"10. The moneys to be paid into the treasury from time to time under the provisions of this act, or of any order-in-council to be made under this act, shall be entered in a book, or books, to be kept for that purpose, in which shall be opened an account for each suit, matter, or proceeding in respect of which any money shall be received into the treasury under this act, showing in each case the particulars mentioned in section 3 of this act, and the interest aforesaid shall be calculated and paid when the principal sum is withdrawn.

The clauses having been adopted and added, the bill was read a third time and passed.

The House went into committee on the following message of the Lieutenant-Governor, with the bill relating to the settlement of the graving dock claims. The message recommended the following as the enacting clauses of that measure:

"1. It shall be lawful for the lieutenant-governor in council, upon such terms and conditions as he shall think proper to impose with reference to the satisfaction by F. B. McNamee & Co. of all claims and liabilities incurred by them in this province in connection with the construction of the said dock, to pay to F. B. McNamee & Co., out of the unappropriated revenue, an amount not exceeding the sum of ten thousand dollars, with interest thereon at five per centum per annum from the 24th of February, 1880, up to the day of such payment.

"2. This act may be cited as the 'Graving Dock Settlement Act.'"

In answer to Hon. Mr. Beaven,

Hon. Mr. Robson explained that the object was to give the government power to settle with certain local creditors of McNamee & Co. within the limits of the $10,000 which had been forfeited and the interest accrued. The main idea of the government had been to endeavor to hit upon some line by which they might chiefly reach one particular case, that of Mr. John Nicholson, which had been a very hard one. Owing to unfortunate complications he had been the loser of considerable sums which he had advanced. The object was to come to his relief and to that of others. He did not know whether or not McNamee & Co. would eventually get anything. The government of which Hon. Mr. Beaven was a member had held that McNamee & Co. had no claim.

The committee rose and reported progress with the resolutions.

The following bills were read a third time and passed: Railway bill (No. 11)—Hon. Mr. Davie; Lien bill (No 75)—Mr. Cunningham.

The House adjourned at 6 o'clock.

We Believe Truth is the Corner Stone

To-day of permanently profitable advertising.

Whatever statements are made must be backed up by merit.

It is useless to say we have goods at such and such a price unless we really have them.

It is no good to say they are cheap unless we are sure such is the fact.

The experience gained during a long period in the Dry Goods business, together with ample facilities, enables us to sell first-class goods as low, if not lower, than any other house (we make no exception whatever.)

We are convinced that our stock for the Spring exceeds any heretofore offered, and, confident of our ability to give satisfaction, we respectfully solicit your patronage.

J. HUTCHESON & CO.
